House price trend

Source: HM Land Registry UK House Price Index

House prices in Huntingdonshire in December 2018 are higher than their 2007/08 peak by 29.7%, compared with England at +27.3%. This suggests that rapid house price growth through the current cycle may be a local problem. Values in 2018 decreased by 2.1% annually. An indicative rental yield (based on ave 2 bed rent vs. ave flat sales value) for Huntingdonshire is 6.1%, compared with 3.4% nationally.

Mortgage lending

This chart shows the change in mortgage lending across the postcode districts in Huntingdonshire. The total volume of lending in the 12 months to Q2 2018 was £5,970 million, compared with £5,875 million a year earlier, a change of +1.6%.

1. Affordability

Source: Council Tax Base

0.4% of residential properties in Huntingdonshire were recorded as second homes in 2018 according to Council Tax Base data. This is significantly lower than the England average, suggesting high levels of second home ownership are unlikely to be a problem, though other sources should be considered.

Source: 2001 and 2011 Census

12.5% of households in Huntingdonshire were rented privately according to the 2011 Census, compared to 7.5% in 2001. The England average changed from 8.8% to 15.4% over the same period.

0.2% of the PRS households in Huntingdonshire comprised only students in 2011, compared with 3.7% in England, suggesting students are not a significant part of the local PRS market.

1. Affordability

Source: Social Mobility Index

Huntingdonshire received an overall standardised score of -22.7 in the 2017 Social Mobility Index, compared to the England average of zero. Huntingdonshire ranks as 249/324 for overall score across all English local authorities for which data is available. Local house price affordability could be a further barrier to social mobility in this area.
